

HISTORYAMERICA PRESENTS

NOVA SCOTIA: FULCRUM OF THE SEVEN YEARS WAR

August 27-September 5, 2008

Brian Cuthbertson, your historian guide for Nova Scotia, has devoted much of this life to the study of this fascinating and diverse Canadian province. Heritage tourism became both his passion and his livelihood. He is the editor of the Journal of the Royal Scotia Historical Society and has authored twelve books on the history of the province. He is a former archivist for the Nova Scotia Archives and the province's Head of Heritage.

Brian has received high praise from HistoryAmerica travelers on his 2001 and 2005 tours. Traveler Mark Costin said of the Nova Scotia tour, "Another Triumph for HistoryAmerica. The Nova Scotia Tour had it all—amazing gardens, spectacular scenery, great museums as well as historic forts and battlefields. I quickly warmed to Brian Cuthbertson's subtle wit and vast knowledge of Nova Scotia history. A highly recommended vacation." Kathleen Kichak said, "Brian Cuthbertson is the Ed Bearss of Nova Scotia. He never tires of talking about the subject he obviously loves. He fields diverse questions with amazing precision and wit. Nova Scotia is a place of incredible beauty, fascinating history, and warm people." That is certainly high praise from this HistoryAmerica traveler and Ed Bearss fan.

NEW BRUNSWICK

SAINT JOHN •

BAY OF FUNDY

Beautiful Annapolis Royal became home in 1605 to some of North America's earliest European settlers.

Grand Pré was the center of Acadian settlement from 1682 to 1755

The first three nights of our tour are spent at the Lord Nelson Hotel in the heart of Halifax.

Uniacke Estate Museum Park

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL
FORT ANNE

Fort Anne is one of the oldest continuously occupied sites in North America

Mahone Bay

LUNENBURG
Established in 1753, Lunenburg was the first British colonial settlement in Nova Scotia outside of Halifax.

The Town Clock in Halifax.

Historian Guide
Brian Cuthbertson

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

CHARLOTTETOWN •

Fort Beauséjour was among the series of French forts in North America to contain British expansion into French territory.

FORT BEAUSEJOUR

AMHERST

Construction of the fortified town of Louisbourg began in 1719 and took 25 years to complete. It fell into ruin and, starting in 1961, one quarter of the town was reconstructed.

STELLARTON
Museum of Industry

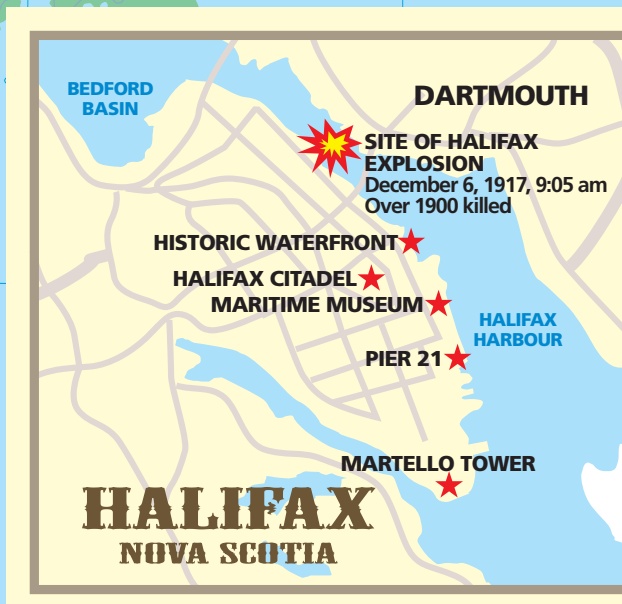

ANTIGONISH

Beautiful Annapolis Royal.

ATLANTIC OCEAN

HALIFAX
NOVA SCOTIA

Cape Breton Highlands National Park

CABOT TRAIL

BADDECK

Alexander Graham Bell Museum

LOUISBOURG

GLACE BAY

SYDNEY

MARCONI NTL HIST SITE

CAPE BRETON

The Cobot Trail, listed as one of the world's most beautiful scenic routes, offers spectacular views.

The Alexander Graham Bell Museum in Baddeck.

- TOUR INCLUDES:
- 10 DAYS / 9 NIGHTS
 - ★ Historian Guide: Brian Cuthbertson
 - ★ Services of a professional tour director
 - ★ Deluxe motorcoach transportation
 - ★ All admissions to included features
 - ★ Nine nights hotel accommodations
 - ★ Nine breakfasts, three lunches, and six dinners
 - ★ Welcome briefing
 - ★ All taxes, baggage handling, and gratuities on included features
 - ★ Suggested reading list
- COST:
- $3195 per person double occupancy
 - $3845 per person single occupancy

For reservations and detailed information contact
HistoryAmerica TOURS
at (800) 628-8542
www.historyamerica.com
Contact us at info@historyamerica.com
4265 Peridot Lane, Rapid City, SD 57702

Travel photos courtesy of Nova Scotia Tourism, Culture and Heritage